Dedication Correspondence.

The Committee on Invitation has furnished us with the following correspondence relating to the dedication next Saturday:

LA FAYETTE, IND., June 28th, 1870.

Dear Sir:—Your kind invitation to attend the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument in Forest Hill Cemetery, erected by the SOLDIERS (and their friends) of Putnam county, to the memory of their fallen comrades, was received by me this morning. I regret that circumstances, over which I have no control, compel me to forego the pleasure it would afford me to attend. Every pulsation of my heart is in sympathy with the noble deeds of daring of the brave men, both dead and alive, who periled their lives to save our government in the dark hour of need—a government so framed that it can have no general aim and purpose save that of the best good and happiness of its citizens. Error is inscribed upon poor humanity, but the intelligent and just desire of a great and free people will in the main, under our Constitution, embody itself in our laws and guide in their administration. Ours is a government worth preserving, and it is now doubly dear to the hearts of all true men, having been baptized in the blood of our noble soldiers.

In conclusion, pardon me for saying, in the language of the poet:

"The rivers their course to ocean may run,
More bright and more glad than they ever have,
The vine may creep over the blossoming shore,
The waters forget they were crimsoned with
But ever rebellion's foul record will keep
In fresh-cut remembrance, though nations with
And the world in its march 'round cycles of
Will tell how we punished foul treason's dark crime."

Yours &c., R. C. GREGORY.

M. A. Moore, Esq., Chairman Committee of Invitation, Greencastle, Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27th 1870.

Marshall A. Moore Esq., Greencastle Ind.—Dear Sir: In reply to your communication of the 24th inst., written on behalf of the Committee of Invitation, inviting the Governor to attend and preside at the dedication of the Monument erected in honor of Putnam's fallen braves, to be held in Forest Hill Cemetery, at 2 o'clock P. M. of Saturday July 2nd, 1870. I have the honor to say that the Governor, just as he was on the point of leaving for Bloomington and having no time to reply personally, directed me to say that it will afford him pleasure to be present on the occasion named, and that he will endeavor to be present.

He also directed me to request that you would be kind enough to express to the Committee, and those whom they represent, his very sincere thanks for the honor of their kind invitation, and his assurance of his due appreciation thereof.

Very Respectfully,
JNO. M. COMMONS,
Private Secretary.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28, 1870.

Hon. M. A. Moore, Esq., Greencastle, Ind.—Dear Sir: On behalf of myself, and at the request of Hon. Charles A. Ray, I return our thanks for the invitation contained in your late favor.

It will afford us pleasure to be present and join in your tribute of respect to the honored dead, who bestowed their lives that their country and ours might live.

With great respect, your friend,
JAMES R. BLACK.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, June 24, 1870.

Capt. M. A. Osborn, Esq., Greencastle, Ind.—Dear Sir: Your favor of the 22nd inst., inviting me to be present on the occasion of the unveiling of the monument, to the fallen soldiers of your county, has been received. Most obliged for it, and will be on hand if possible.

Very truly, your friend,
LEW WALLACE.

Intense excitement prevails at Indianapolis in regard to an awful tragedy involving the murder of two little girls. The City Council and County Commissioners offer $1,250 reward for the arrest and conviction of the authors of the fiendish deed. The names of the victims were Mary Henneby and Catharine Gimber, the former, eleven and the latter four years of age.

It is reported in Rome the Ecumenical Council will sit till next Easter. One hundred speakers are yet to be heard on infidelity. The opponents of the dogma continue to receive congratulatory addresses. The Pope, in order to discomfit the minority, proposes to submit a new definition of the theory.

A Manufacturers' Union has been organized by the citizens of Crawfordsville, for the purpose of advertising the manufacturing advantages of the city and county.

The drought has been very severe throughout Germany, and crop prospects are very discouraging.

The convention of the Young Men's Christian Association at Indianapolis adjourned to meet in Washington in 1871.

Action of the Central Committee—Hon. M. A. Osborn, nominated for Joint Representative.

At the meeting of the Republican Central Committee of Putnam County, held in the Mayor's office in Greencastle, on June 18th, 1870, the following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted by the Committee: WHEREAS, The Republicans of Hendricks County have indicated to us their willingness to support any Republican of our choice for Joint Representative of Hendricks and Putnam counties. Therefore,

Resolved, That we place in nomination Milton A. Osborn as a candidate for Joint Representative of the counties of Hendricks and Putnam in the next Legislature; and that the Chairman of this Committee is hereby instructed to inform the Central Committee of Hendricks County of the adoption of this resolution.

In pursuance of the same, the Central Committee of Hendricks county have been officially notified of the adoption of the resolution. Respectfully,
WILLIAM A. BROWN,
Chairman Putnam Co. Cen. Com.

Greencastle, June 27, 1870.

Written for the Banner.

On last Saturday, Hon. M. A. Osborn, of Greencastle, was nominated by the Central Committee of Putnam County for Joint Representative, from that and Hendricks County.

The latter county had already nominated the same candidate—State Journal.

Mr. Editor:—The above will be news to the Republicans of Putnam and Hendricks Counties.

It is true that sometime last winter at a County Convention in Danville, called for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention, a resolution was offered and passed without notice, recommending Mr. Osborn for re-election.

The same thing was attempted at our County Convention in February, but as that meeting had been called for no such purpose, the resolution met with merited rebuke and defeat. And at the recent County Convention of the Republicans of Hendricks County, this Joint Representative question was discussed, and the Chairman of the Central Committee of that county instructed to notify the Republicans of this county, that Hendricks County would support for that office the candidate selected by Putnam County.

And if, as indicated by the above extract, our Central Committee have assumed the authority of saying to the people who they must support for Joint Representative, they have done that which they had no authority whatever to do, and consequently their action is binding upon none.

The names of gentlemen in several different sections of the county have been used in connection with this position by their friends, to whom this action of the Committee is an open insult.

To say the least, this secret and unexpected disposal of a matter of so much importance, bears upon its face the appearance of fraud and trickery. And the aspirant who is capable of resorting to such means to thrust himself upon the people, should therefore forfeit the respect of every fair-minded man in the party, and the two or three who were in the secret, and willing tools in this little scheme, should be taught that they do not carry the Republican party in their breeches pocket, and that their hasty, ill timed and unauthorized action will not be submitted to, however much they may have been assisted by the counsel of a fossilized, old superannuated, when opportunity seeking has become chronic, and who always has an ax to grind.

FAIR PLAY.

Congressional Items.

It seems $4,000,000 have been drawn out of the Treasury altogether for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home.

The Senate Finance Committee, in order to make up the tax lost by abolishing the tax on sugar, will advocate the retention of tax gross on receipts, and the present duty on sugar.

The House Committee on Claims has, during the session, considered 664 claim bills, amounting to $8,437,640. Of these $1, amounting to $1,240,447, have been favorably, and 172 unfavorably reported. The rest are still pending.

The Conference Committee on the Currency Bill have agreed to report as follows: They will retire all the three per cents, issue $45,000,000 new National Bank circulation, redistribute $25,000,000, and go for free banking on a gold basis.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

Nomination of General Coburn—Judicial Nominations.

The Congressional Nominating Convention for the 5th District met in the Hall of the House of Representatives yesterday, in accordance with the call of the District Committee.

The Convention was called to order at half past 11 o'clock by Hon. W. W. Leathers, Chairman of the Congressional Convention. Mr. E. W. Halford was made temporary Secretary. A call of the counties showed all to be represented.

On motion of Dr. W. M. Wishard, General Edmund was chosen permanent President. General Dumont returned his thanks for the honor, and said he would repay the Convention by not making a speech.

The following apportionment was agreed upon:

County	Representatives
Marion	1
Putnam	1
Morgan	1
Johnson	1
Brown	1

Hon. W. R. Harrison, of Morgan county, presented that the business proper of this Convention could be transacted in a few minutes. From what he could understand of the public sentiment from all points, it pointed to the renomination of General Coburn. Without more remarks, he moved the unanimous nomination of General Coburn as the candidate for Congress.

This motion was seconded by the Putnam county delegation, and then unanimously carried.

General Dumont declared Gen. Coburn the unanimous nominee of the Convention.

On motion of Dr. Ritter, of Hendricks county, the following Congressional District Committee was appointed:

Marion county—William Wallace, Hendricks—Edmund H. Straughan, Putnam—Colonel John Osborn, Brown—Milton Flenner.

Morgan—Major George W. Grubbs, Johnson—Captain D. W. H. H. On motion of Dr. Wishard, the following Committee on Resolutions was appointed: Marion county—Gen. George H. Chapman, Hendricks—Levi Ritter, Putnam—Captain Wimmer, Brown—Milton Flenner.

Morgan—Wm. R. Harrison. Mr. Harrison introduced a resolution, which was referred to the committee.

General Chapman declined to serve upon the committee, whereupon Mr. W. P. Fishback was put in his place by order of the Convention.

Hon. John V. Hadley, of Hendricks county, stated that the Senate of Mississippi was below in the Executive rooms, and he moved a committee to invite him to appear before the Convention. The committee was constituted as follows: Marion—Col. W. M. Wiles, Hendricks—John V. Hadley, Putnam—Col. Osborn.

Johnson—Captain Taylor, Morgan—Frank Phelps, Brown—Milton Flenner.

Mr. Fishback, from the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in again presenting to the voters of this District the Hon. John Coburn for re-election to Congress, we are proud to be able to say that in so doing we present one who has long and ably represented us, and who, while faithfully subserving the great interests of the nation, has at no time forgotten the interests of his immediate constituents; and that we will use every honorable effort to secure his election by an increased majority.

At this juncture, the committee appeared with the Hon. Senator Revels, who was introduced to the Convention by the President as the successful candidate.

Mr. Revels was received with applause, and made a few brief remarks. He came to this city with a wife who is sick even to the point of death, intending to leave her here, and then proceed to Washington to continue his duty as Senator. He thanked the Convention for their kindness, exclaiming: "The Republican party for their efforts not to advance a race, but to advance the good of the entire land."

As Senator Revels left the stand, the Convention gave three cheers, indicative of their love and admiration for the equality of all men before the law.

On motion of Col. W. M. Wiles, the Chairman was requested to notify General Coburn of his nomination.

The Convention then adjourned with three cheers for General Coburn and the State ticket.—Journal.

The New Albany Ledger tells the following: "On the last day of September 1861, Mr. Asher Butler enlisted in the Confederate army in Tennessee, leaving behind him, when his regiment marched, a wife and one child—a daughter, aged nine years. At the battle of Chattanooga, Butler was severely wounded, and for a long time was confined in a hospital."

He reached his wife that he was dead, and in course of time she married again, and with her husband removed to Louisville. Last week a party of the citizens of Louisville, gentlemen and ladies, held a picnic at Newman's Grove, below this city. Butler was one of the party.

In the course of the day a young lady of eight years was frequently noticed by him to be closely observing him, and finally she requested the young gentleman who accompanied her to go to him and ask him his name and where he came from. The young man did as requested, receiving an answer that his name was Asher Butler, that he was an ex-Confederate soldier, and other particulars of his life.

The answer was communicated to the young lady, who, without further inquiry, rushed into Butler's arms, and covering his face with kisses, exclaimed, "My father—my long lost father! Thank God, I have found you at last!" And so it proved for, after nine years of separation, father and daughter were thus unexpectedly brought together.

At the last session of Congress, Mr. Coburn, an addition to the currency of the West would meet the demands of business. He was resisted by the combined forces of the East led by a New York member, but supported by the West and South, he carried his point in the House, only to lose it in the press of other business. Nothing was done, mainly because the East was resolved to keep the currency in the hands of the West to come East for its money. A more short-sighted, as well as selfish, policy can not be conceived. Every body could see that sooner or later the growing West would outnumber the East, and with the possession of the power, would have abundant provocation to "better the instruction" the East had given it.

The battle came sooner than was expected, and resulted precisely as was predicted. The East has been paid for its meanness by Garfield's currency bill, which equalizes the distribution of the currency by adding $50,000,000 to its volume, and restricting its issue in a measure to the most poorly provided States. The increase of issue is $85,000,000, but $45,000,000 of three per cent. certificates now held by the banks are to be cancelled and withdrawn from the bank reserves.—Indianapolis Journal.

Captain Greenwalt, Adjutant-General of the State, sent a twelve-pound gun to Greencastle, yesterday, to be used on the occasion of the unveiling of the soldiers' monument at that place, to take place on Saturday next.—Indianapolis Journal of Wednesday.

Greencastle Soldiers' Monument.

The citizens of Putnam county extend a cordial invitation to our citizens to attend the ceremonies on the occasion of unveiling the soldiers' monument at Greencastle Cemetery on Saturday next, July 2nd.

The Terre Haute Railroad Company will run a half-fare train, leaving here at 9 a. m., and returning at 6 p. m.

The monument is a splendid work of the kind, costing $10,000, and being handsomely and elaborately embellished with appropriate carvings. It contains the names of all the soldiers of Putnam county, 240 in all, who fell in the late war against rebellion. It consists of a base eight feet high, surmounted by a soldier in uniform of the same height.

All the flags of regiments from that county will be in the procession on the occasion, and nearly all the surviving soldiers in the county, besides many from other counties, will be present to take part in the ceremonies.

Captain J. L. Hanna and his company, of this city, have accepted an invitation to be present.

Governor Baker will preside, and Hon. R. W. Thompson and General Lew Wallace will be the orators of the day.

The occasion will be of rare interest to all soldiers and patriots.

The citizens will make ample provision to feed all strangers who attend.—Indianapolis Journal.

Renomination of General Coburn.

The Republican Convention of this, the Fifth Congressional District, unanimously renominated General John Coburn yesterday, as our candidate for the next Congress. It is a creditable fact to both; creditable to him to have done such faithful and efficient work that no opposition was even thought of, and creditable to the Convention that it was so prompt to reward as to appreciate the services.

Four years are more than enough to show whether a representative is worth his place or not. If there is a weak spot in his brain, a four years' strain will make a crack there, and if there is a rotten place in his character, such lobbying as that of the land-grabbers will find it. Our candidate shows no strain in either, nothing but the firm texture of intellect hardened by training, and integrity strengthened by resistance to peculation. He has been an honorable, faithful and able man, and more than that no party can ask. He has sought no relaxation by running off home, and wasted no time in making efforts for a third nomination. He has done better. He has left his record to electioneer for him, and the unanimous vote of yesterday tells us how efficient an agent a good record is. The second Tuesday of October will tell it again, not more plainly, but in a way that can't well be disputed. His election is settled now. We do not know whom the Democrats will nominate, but it makes no difference. They have not got a man with sense enough to make a candidate of who has not too much sense not to know that he will be beaten.—Indianapolis Journal of the 24th.

The office of Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue expires, by limitation, to day, and it is not probable that any effort will be made to continue the office. The friends of Mr. Wells think the office could be continued, but as the President will not agree to reappoint Wells, they will not move in the matter. The President is personally favorable to Mr. Wells, but the Secretary of the Treasury says he will resign if he is retained in office.

The Spanish Cortes has passed a bill for the abolition of slavery in the colonies. All slaves over 60 years are immediately liberated. The guardianship over slaves born after 1868 ceases on proof of abuse or castigation by the master, or the marriage of the slave. Children under 14 go with their mothers. Married couples shall not be separated. Punishment by the lash or azote is absolutely prohibited.

The congregation of the new St. Patrick's Church will picnic at Greencastle on the Fourth of July, the proceeds of the excursion to be devoted to the use of the church.—Indianapolis News.

The Methodists of Floyd township will build a new church this season worth $1,000. Since it has been settled that Asbury University is to be located here permanently, Col. A. S. Farrow, who had already given liberally, has added another hundred dollars. No doubt many others of our citizens will do likewise.

Judge Burns, of the Common Pleas Court, distinguished himself by attempting to stop the playing of the bands in the Masonic procession last Friday after they had reached the Public Square. The Deputy Sheriff even went so far as to try to arrest the Marshal of the Day. A little brief authority sometimes impresses very small men with a wonderful sense of their supposed greatness!

At last Putnam county has an improvement that is worthy of her reputation. The artistic skill displayed on it, and the fine material used can not fail to impress the beholder with a proper appreciation of the wisdom and valuable services of those who ordered and superintended it. Is it necessary to be more explicit? or shall we say that it is the new Court House fence to which we allude?

We the undersigned Dry Goods dealers, desiring to attend the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument, on Saturday, July 2nd, hereby give notice to our patrons that our places of business will be open until 12 o'clock, at which time they will be closed for the remainder of the day.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—At the regular session of the Common Council Monday evening, the ordinance offered at the former meeting levying tax for 1870 was considered. The vote on the motion for its adoption was: ayes: Brannan, Brockway and Gage; noes: Darnall, Pfeifferberger, and Walls. The vote being a tie, the Mayor voted no, and so the motion was lost. Mr. Walls then offered the following ordinance: Sec. 1.—Be it ordained by the Common Council of Greencastle, Indiana, that a tax of fifty cents on each $100 of taxable property, and fifty cents on each poll in said city, be and the same is hereby levied to raise funds to pay the school bonds, and interest on the same, heretofore issued by said city. Sec. 2.—That the sum seventy-five cents on each $100 of taxable, and fifty cents on each poll, be and the same is hereby levied to pay the general indebtedness of said city. Adopted by the following vote: ayes: Brannan, Walls, Brockway, Pfeifferberger, and Gage. Noes: Darnall.

Asbury University Permanently Located in Greencastle.
The thirty-first Commencement of Asbury University has just closed, and has been an entire success. All who participated in the performances acquitted themselves well. The Board of Trustees unanimously resolved that the University should be permanently located in Greencastle, and that work on the new building should commence as soon as practicable. A Building Committee was chosen as follows: J. C. McIntosh, ex-DePaul, H. S. Lane, F. C. Holliday, D. L. Southard, J. E. Darnall, A. S. Bryan, President Thomas Bowman, A. M. Lockridge.
It will soon be found that this action has given a new and prosperous start to the institution.

Base Ball.
A game of base ball was played last Saturday, June 25th, between the Red Stockings, of Greencastle, and a picked team of students, mostly 2nd Pros. The play on both sides was very good, but the Reds did not get down to hard work until the last two innings. The Reds would like to receive challenges from some of the clubs in the county. The following is the score:
